CHEWAUCAN COMPANY SCORED BY FORMER GOVERNOR OF OREGON

SALEM, Ore., June 5.—Former Governor West, here on business, scored the Chewaucan Land & Sattle Co. for what he calls its dog in the manger policy toward the prospective settlers of the Paisley-Carey act project.

"I am interested in the cause of the prospective settlers of the Paisley-Carey act project," said former Governor West. "The state desert land board entered into a contract with the Portland Irrigation company for the reclamation of these lands, and with the information and belief that there was an abundance of water to irrigate them. Now comes the Chewaucan Land & Sattle Co., with its usual dog in the manger policy, and proposes to block development of that section of the state by claiming and holding, if possible, all the waters of the Chewaucan river to flood its swamp land."

"The original purchase from the state of a large tract of the swamp lands now held by this company was tainted with fraud, and it is just as well that the whole matter be aired and the public fully advised as to the methods by which the state was robbed of such holdings."

"I am quite sure that when the facts surrounding the purchase of these lands have been uncovered and brought to public attention, and the cause of the state submitted to the courts, the cattle company will not be burdened with so much land as at present, and will find its position of retarding the growth of and development of Lake county not so well fortified."

According to the former governor, congress, by virtue of the act of 1860 granted to the state of Oregon all unappropriated swampy lands within its borders, and the state has already received 260,000 acres and is making claim to the additional acreage. Practically all of the 260,000 acres have been sold at a ridiculously low price of about $1 per acre, but when an effort is made to divert the water for the benefit of settlers, the companies claim the lands have a value of from $20 to $50 per acre.
